

ANSWERED

We know God is the promise keeper, as seen in the story of Abraham and his plan of redemption for humanity. Jesus takes it a step further. Not only did Jesus keep promises, but he also fulfilled promises - prophecies about who the Messiah would be and what he would do. Isaiah 35:4-6 tells us "The eyes of the blind shall be opened and the ears of the deaf unstopped; then shall the lame man leap like a deer, and the tongue of the mute sing for joy." When asked if he was "the one to come," Jesus responded in Luke 7:22, "The blind receive their sight, the lame walk, lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, the poor have good news preached to them." Jesus fulfilled Isaiah's prophecies about the one to come (Messiah) and even went beyond them.

During "Answered," we'll talk about what prophecy is and how Jesus fulfilled Messianic prophecy. From October 18 - December 6, we'll address:

What is prophecy and how did Jesus fulfill it?

Jesus healed the blind

Jesus healed the deaf

Jesus healed the lame

Jesus healed the mute

Jesus healed the lepers

Jesus went beyond the prophecies (and the raising of the dead)

The prophecies called for a Messiah. Jesus ANSWERED.
