Read Mark 5: 21-43.

Where was Jesus when this story begins?

Jesus traveled
back and forth
across the sea a
lot. People were always waiting for him on the other side.
Would you wait
for Jesus?

Jairus was in a hurry. Jesus wasn't. How would you feel if Jesus was taking his time while you were trying to hurry to heal
your daughter?

In the middle of this story, there is another story. There was a woman who had been sick for 12 years. No one wanted to be near this woman except Jesus.

Even during an important person's (Jairus) emergency, Jesus stopped to heal the outcast. Talk about that.

How would you feel if you saw
someone raised to life? Would it be hard not to talk about it like Jesus asked the people to do?

This wasn't the only person Jesus raised from the dead. Who else did Jesus raise from the dead?
